a meditation on the gospel of Matthew 14:13-14

When Jesus went to his hometown of Nazareth to teach, many were amazed at his wisdom and power. But others questioned him, saying, “Isn’t this the carpenter’s son?... Where did he get all this?” and they rejected him.

Jesus was not able to do many miracles there because of their unbelief.

Now, Jesus has just been told about the death of John the baptist, how he was executed by Herod the Tetrarch...

When he saw the crowd,
Jesus had compassion for them...
